

THE BOTANICAL REVIEW

Interpreting Botanical Progress

Founded in 1935

THE NEW YORK BOTANICAL GARDEN
NEW YORK 58, N. Y., U. S. A.

ECONOMIC BOTANY

Devoted to Plant Utilization

Founded in 1947

March 6, 1950.

Dr. Joshua Lederberg
Department of Genetics
Univ. of Wisconsin
Madison, Wisc.

Dear Dr. Lederberg:

You undoubtedly are familiar with The Botanical Review and the position which it occupies in current botanical literature by providing critical reviews of recent contributions on particular topics. In continuing this service, we invite you to contribute a review upon the physiological genetics of lower plants.

You are free to expand or restrict the subject and to formulate the precise title. On the basis of our experience in publishing reviews, we are enclosing a list of suggestions, sent to all prospective contributors, which we would urge you to observe as far as will be compatible with treatment of the assigned topic.

In the event that it will not be possible for you to favor us in this respect, which we sincerely hope will not be the case, kindly give us the names and addresses of two or three persons who might be in a position to undertake preparation of the suggested article.

Hoping to receive a favorable reply from you, we remain, ehf.1.

Very truly yours,
THE BOTANICAL REVIEW

E. H. Fulling
Editor and Publisher.